

TREATING MICROBES WITH BIORESONANCE

Leading scientists believe that electromagnetic vibration plays a very important role in Nature. The main source of electromagnetic vibration is the sun, which provides a broad range of electromagnetic waves, of which only 6% reach the surface of the Earth.

Every living and none living thing has its own resonant frequency. Every organ of the body has its own individual resonant frequency, much like the note of a tuning fork. All bacteria, viruses, parasites and fungi also have their own frequencies.

When an organ such as the liver gets sick, the frequency usually drops. For example, the lungs resonate at a frequency of 72 cycles per second, which is also known as Hertz. If the lungs develop an infection, then the frequency will change, usually dropping a few hertz.

If we can produce the same frequency as a healthy lung using a frequency generator, then we can help the lung to recuperate its normal functioning. The body heals and rebalances itself when it is connected to healthy frequencies. This is the principle of BIORESONANCE.

Bioresonance Therapy

The Bioresonance method is built on findings based on biophysics and quantum mechanics. Quantum mechanics, in short, identified that everything in the universe, is a compressed energy and that each emits its own unique electromagnetic frequency.

Bioresonance therapy is also considered as energy therapy that does not use any drugs or medication – it is completely non-invasive. Bioresonance therapy is a very powerful and natural way for the body to recover its optimal health.

If we take a crystal wine glass as another example, this also has its own resonant frequency around 500 Hertz. If we can produce a sound at the same frequency and stand the glass in front of a speaker, then the glass will absorb this frequency and break. This is the phenomenon of RESONANCE.

In the same way, microbes also have their own resonant frequencies – if we can match these frequencies then the microbes will absorb this energy and burst .

There have been many researchers that have worked on energy medicine and bioresonance this century such as Dr Rife, Dr. Voll, Dr. Schimmel, Dr. Morell and others. In addition, unknown to the West, the Russians have worked in the background and made breath taking discoveries in this field.

Russian Bioresonance Research

The Russians conducted extensive studies on over 25,000 people and established an accurate system of analysing and reinforcing energetic health of the organs, and their connection to specific areas on the skin (dermal-visceral zones). The Russian space programme uses this technology because it enables convenient and non-invasive monitoring and enhancing of the health of their cosmonauts.

Over the last 20 years the Russian scientists have developed small, portable devices that are innovative and cutting-edge. Previous researchers had invented larger devices which were expensive and had to be installed in clinics, making it inconvenient for the patient – many treatment visits were required by the patient, also making it expensive.

The innovation of the Russian company is to produce small devices that can be purchased by the patient at a relatively low cost and used on a daily basis in the comfort of their own home. This is akin to having your own “personal doctor” in your own home. Moreover, the Bioresonance devices could also be programmed using a simple USB dongle plugged directly into your computer. This contains over 3,000 therapy programmes covering a vast array of parasites, bacteria, fungi, viruses and organ systems.

Bioresonance Diagnostics

A Bioresonance practitioner, using bioresonance diagnostic devices, can identify the various parasite and microbe load, as well as the organ system weaknesses, and programme these small devices for the patient to run in the comfort of their own home. Every month they can run the bioresonance diagnostics again to determine which microbes have gone and re-programme the devices.

This is as close to Star Trek medicine as we are going to get!

As a result of these devices' action, a weakened organ receives energy needed for normal functioning, which is redistributed on a wide scale, restoring the workability of effected organs. In this way, these devices allow one, with the aid of a weak electromagnetic field, to elicit a resonance within organs and systems, thus harmonizing the operation of the whole organism. Thousands of people have been able to cut down on their dosages of medicines, and in some cases have entirely stopped taking them and have regained excellent health.

Treatment with the devices is based on the principles of Bioresonance. They are as close as we can get to the Hippocratic Oath that says: “Do no harm” when treating people. These gentle devices achieve exactly this – they can heal without being invasive and causing side-effects.

The devices have undergone clinical trials with many thousands of patients suffering many different health problems, as well as being certified by the Ministry of Health of the Russian Republic. These devices have also been patented in 73 different countries, as well as having won many certificates and awards. They also are manufactured in Germany and carry a CE for wellness.

Benefits include:

- It is an easy and efficient way to get rid of diseases without any drugs or to minimize their consumption
- Can cure diseases that are considered incurable, such as herpes, hepatitis A and B, herpes, tuberculosis and others
- Can eliminate a wide variety of parasites that have not been officially identified
- The devices can be used by all the family, including children and pets, and can therefore act as your “family doctor”
- It is a highly efficient treatment method with no side effects, which is confirmed by all well-known diagnostic methods

To date there are more than 3,000 programmes that have been developed with an overall positive effect in many health problems in excess of 85%. The potential for this type of treatment is mind boggling!
